HENDERSON AND COUTS HIGH MEN

Dayton, O., Sept. 10.—The winner of the Grand American Handicap shoot, which began here today, will not be known until tomorrow.

At the close of the day's shooting J. F. Coutts, Jr., of San Diego, Cal., and Woolford Henderson of Lexington, Ky., were high men in the event. The former ran through 80 of his 100 targets with but one miss, while the latter had a perfect score of 60.

Though Coutts and Henderson appear to have the best chances to win, several other shooters turned in good cards. S. C. Foster of Mason City, Ia., and O. P. Goble of Hinsdale, Ill., lost only two targets out of 60. Samuel Loefer of Gosben, O., F. S. Wright of Buffalo, N. Y., and S. A. Huntley of Vancouver, Wash., held scores of 57 out of 60.

TOMMY MURPHY IN CLEAN SWEEP

Hartford, Conn., Sept. 10.—Tommy Murphy made a clean sweep of the four events carded for the final day of the grand circuit meeting at Charter Oak park this afternoon, taking the trotting division of the Matron stake with Pete Volo; the pacing division of the same stake with Anna Bradford and winning the 2:24 trot with Barbara Overton, and the free-for-all pace with Frank Bogash, Jr. All the races went in straight heats and the favorites ran true to form.

The wonderful records of Peter Volo in the trotting division of the Matron stake and Anna Bradford in the pacing division evidently had a bad effect upon the other entries for these two events, only three horses facing the starter in the trot, while Anna Bradford had a walkover. In the pace, being the only starter, Frank Bogash, Jr., was never hard pushed in the free-for-all pace, stepping both heats in 2:05 1/4, and Barbara Overton had no trouble in leading all the way in three straight heats in the 2:24 trot.

BORTON TO JOIN FEDERALS.
St. Joseph, Sept. 10.—In a letter to his wife here, First Baseman Borton, formerly of the local Western league team, now with the Venice club of the Pacific Coast league, says he has signed a two-year contract to play with the St. Louis Federals. He will finish the season with Venice.

AUSTRIANS FLEE IN GREAT PANIC

Correspondent Writes of War Scenes—Rear Cuts Way Through Men Ahead.

POLES BLOW UP TRAIN
Cossacks Wreck Armored German Train, Annihilate Soldiers With Swords and Capture Guns.

London, Sept. 11, 12:55 p. m.—Reuters Telegram company has a dispatch from its correspondent at Petrograd, which says that after the recent fighting with the Austrian left wing, the enemy's rear fled in such panic that regiments became inextricably mixed and blocked the roads and bridges. Those furthest behind resorted to the strength of their arms to force their way through the men ahead of them. The roads were littered with overturned cars and the harness of the transports, the horses evidently having been used as mounts by the men in retreat.

Many Russian hospitals, the correspondent continues, today harbor more Austrian wounded than Russian.

Polish Miners Hide Explosives.
A correspondent of the Bourne Gazette, the Reuter man continues, reports that at Bendzin, in Russian Poland, the Germans compelled some Polish miners to load the coal trucks of their trains. The miners did so, but concealed high explosives in the fuel. The results were appalling. It is said that one military train was destroyed, and that an ammunition factory was wrecked.

Cossacks are credited with having wrecked a German armored train carrying quick firing guns, at a point northwest of Chensokoff. A small detachment of Cossacks fired at the train, while a big force remained in the rear. The Germans backed the train up, and it was derailed by the Cossacks behind it. The cars rolled down an embankment and the Cossacks then attacked the enemy with their swords. The Germans were annihilated, the correspondent of the Bourne Gazette declares, and the Cossacks captured the guns.

GERMAN VIEW OF INVASION

Correspondent Sends Long Message Describing Fighting in Belgian Cities.

RETREAT OF FRENCH
Many Wounded Die From Lack of Prompt Attention—Aeroplanes Constantly Whirling.

London, Sept. 11, 7 a. m.—A correspondent of the Associated Press, who has been through Belgium, sends a long message from Rotterdam which was rather heavily censored throughout, but which appears to be an account of the invasion of Belgium obtained from a German point of view. Something was deleted at the beginning. The story follows:

"From Brussels the German army poured over southern Belgium into France like a flood tide, spreading like a fan in the directions of Beaumont, Maubeuge, Mons and Lille, joining in the south of Belgium with other army corps proceeding from Gembloux, Dinant and Givet.

French Scatter in Disorder.
"They went over the French border without serious resistance, the French scattering before them in great disorder, leaving behind much war material and all sorts of personal equipments, their retreat extending as far as the forest of Mormal in northern France.

"Several rear guard actions occurred, resulting in considerable losses to both sides and bringing up the losses of the Germans in Belgium to about 50,000.

"From the Binche country southward, in the direction of Maubeuge, innumerable skirmishes occurred from August 23 to August 26. At Bray, just west of Binche, the French and English were repulsed by the Germans. The French retreated to Bonne Esperance where, after another skirmish, they fell back through Morbecq, Saint Marie and Morbecq Lechaateau, 10,000 English retreating to Jeumont at the same time.

Resistance of Allies.
"Engagements in the vicinity of Bulsierre and Thuin constituted the most determined resistance offered by the allies. After two days' continuous artillery duel, which swept the surrounding country and demolished almost every structure, the entire right wing of the allies withdrew far to the southward. This gave the Germans an opportunity to sweep through Beaumont and approach Maubeuge from the south.

"Meanwhile the other corps had approached Maubeuge from the north, entirely involving the fortress. The English and French were, on August 23, driven across the Sambre river where, on the south bank of the river, in a thirty-mile front, fighting continued for three days.

"The correspondent first saw actual firing in the direction of Maubeuge on August 26 when white puffs of the German shrapnel clouded the horizon but the forward movement of the German columns was so fast that when the correspondent reached the scene of the recent engagement, the firing lines had advanced fully ten miles southward. An extensive trench system laid out by the French infantry marked the French retreat.

Germans Care for Wounded.
"The German wounded, in all cases, were immediately cared for, the dead buried as fast as the army continued on the march, while the French dead were left unburied and the wounded, in some cases, remained on the battlefield for three days before receiving attention.

"Large numbers of the French wounded were brought into Solre Sur Sambre from the surrounding woods, whether many had dragged themselves to escape. Every conceivable kind of building, such as the chateau, school house and inn was used as a hospital and here the French wounded were accorded the same care as the German wounded.

"A large proportion of the French wounded died from lack of prompt attention and long exposure in the open without food or drink. No cases were observed where French medical men were left behind to take care of their wounded. The German medical corps was fully occupied with the treatment of its own wounded and was hastened onward by the forced marches of extraordinary speed and duration made by the Germans.

"The French dead, in all sorts of conveyances, were a common sight, and squares and cemeteries, with unfinished graves, gave mute evidence of a hurried French retreat.

Aeroplanes Constantly Whirling.
"Dove-shaped German aeroplanes whirled constantly over the country and occasionally one saw French aviators far enough aloft to be out of range of the special German guns

"Pipe smoking gives added pleasure to a golfer when the pipe is filled with Tuxedo. Tuxedo provides more keen enjoyment than any other tobacco I know."

Alex Campbell
Country Club, Brookline, Mass.
"I am always glad to speak a good word for Tuxedo tobacco. Constant use of it only serves to make it better liked. Its fragrant, soothing flavor makes it the choice of many golfers."

Alex Ross
National Open Champion 1907, says:
"Tuxedo, cool and mild, is essentially the smoke that satisfies. Many of my fellow golfers agree with me in giving preference to Tuxedo."

Tee Up! Smoke Up!

As satisfying as the sounding smack of the perfect drive, is the open-air relish of the perfect smoke—Tuxedo. Both go together, too. When you grab your bag and start for the links, grab up your tin of Tuxedo and take it along.

"Follow through" the snappy afternoon with Tuxedo. Put Tuxedo in your pipe and you will "put" the best. And at "the nineteenth hole" rest up and relax with a good, solid smoke of Tuxedo. That's the advice of good golfers everywhere.

Tuxedo

The Perfect Tobacco for Pipe and Cigarette

It's worth your while to try Tuxedo. Especially if a sensitive tongue prevents pipe smoking.

Tuxedo positively cannot bite—not even if you smoke pipeful after pipeful, as many as you can crowd into a day or a week.

Tuxedo is made of only the finest, choicest, selected leaves of perfectly aged Burley tobacco. It is made by the original "Tuxedo Process" which removes every trace of bite and sting and develops all the wonderful mildness, fragrance and flavor of the Burley Leaf in a way that no other brand of tobacco has ever successfully imitated.
